YOUNG FILMMAKERS AT CA' FOSCARI

Like every year the Ca' Foscari Short Film Festival dedicates a special program to film productions closely linked to the University, such as films made by the students or to the student community, and in particular those made by participants in the Master's Degree program Fine Arts in Filmmaking, affiliated to the Festival. This year's films are: the feature film made by the Master's students during last academic year, a short film shot in collaboration with the Municipality of Venice to promote sustainable tourism, a "video-creative challenge" focusing on the Library of the BAUM humanistic area of Ca 'Foscari, a short film dedicated to the Alumni community of Ca' Foscari, and finally the music video Hold me for the Silverado Country Band. Five experiences that show how at Ca' Foscari cinema is a fundamental art.

SCREENING PROGRAMME:

THE UNRELIABLES, Santiago Marcorà (collective direction by the Master's students)
Within the walls of a chaotic creative forge, a group of three exasperated screenwriters wreck their brains to elaborate the subject of a film in a single night under commission by a ruthless producer. Freely inspired by Italo Calvino's novel If on a winter's night a traveler.

VENICE LAGOON AND ISLAND OF JEJU: TWO REALITIES COMPARED
What do an island off the coast of South Korea, Jeju, and the city of Venice have in common? Let's find out with this video by students of the Master's program based on interviews with foreign and Italian tourists on the subject of tourism and the inconveniences of a complex reality such as Venice.

VIDEO-CREATIVE CHALLENGE: BAUM
The students of the Master's course take on an unusual creative challenge: conceiving and shooting four short films in the BAUM library of Ca 'Foscari University as the only location. The four groups were randomly assigned a 'keyword' to establish the subject of their work.

THE ALLEY OF MEMORIES
Ca' Foscari University Alumni Association aims to bring together former students of the Venetian university into an international network. The students of the Master's degree course convey the spirit of this Association in an emotional short film where a man fondly remembers the years he was a student in Venice.

HOLD ME - Silverado Country Band, HIROKI Hayashi, Staff: Students of the Master in Fine Arts in Filmmaking
Music video for the Italian country music group Silverado Country Band. A young photographer lives a troubled relationship on the background of Venetian landscapes. The memory of her beloved causes her a sad nostalgia and brings her to search for the places of lost love.
