"OLGA BRUNNER LEVI" PRIZE – 6th edition

Established in 2014 by the Ugo and Olga Levi Foundation for musical studies, the "Olga Brunner Levi" Prize reaches its sixth edition this year. Students of high schools from all over the world are asked to create an original short film dedicated to women's musical performance or to the relationship between women and music in history. The winner will be awarded a glass sculpture as a prize and their video will be screened at the Ca' Foscari Short Film Festival on 23 March 2019.

The award is dedicated to the memory of Olga Brunner Levi who, with her husband Ugo Levi, made her home in Venice an international meeting point for writers, musicians and men of culture. Following a donation from Ugo Levi in accordance with his wife's will, the Ugo and Olga Levi Foundation was created in 1962. The jury of the competition, nominated by the Foundation, is composed of Roberto Calabretto (University of Udine), Antioco Floris (University of Cagliari) and Luisa Zanoncelli (Ugo and Olga Levi Foundation). The winner of the last edition was Untitled by Alexander Puga and Monica Matute from the United States.
