YOUNG FILMMAKERS AT CA' FOSCARI

The program is a showcase for the work of the students of the Master in Fine Arts in Filmmaking of Ca' Foscari University. For the third consecutive year, the projects realized by the students during their studies will be screened for the public. All of them played the most important roles of the film production, shooting movies that reflect different genres: fiction, documentary, video-art, commercials and music videos. The Master is characterized by a strong practical side, which is ensured through lessons held by industry experts with proven international experience.
